

I was encouraged recently by a mentor to start keeping a track of my “axioms.” An axiom is a “statement or proposition which is regarded as being established, accepted, or self-evidently true.” Pastors have a terrible habit of collecting axioms, and they pop up in sermons and pastoral care sessions relentlessly. Here are some of my favorites, and I’d like for you, dear reader, to tally a point for each one you have heard me say!

“How do you get to Carnegie Hall? Practice, practice, practice.” - Anonymous

“Failure is always an option.” - Mythbusters

“What comes to mind when we think about God is the most important thing about us.” - The Knowledge of the Holy, A.W. Tozer

“Any pizza is a personal pizza if you believe in yourself and try hard enough.” - Anonymous

“The gospel of Christ knows of no religion, but social; no holiness but social holiness.” - John Wesley

“Begin with the end in mind.” - The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, Franklin Covey

“Good artists copy, great artists steal.” - Pablo Picasso

“Fewer moving parts means fewer broken pieces.” - Fewer Moving Parts, David Bazan

“Sucking at something is the first step to being kinda good at something.” - Jake the Dog, Adventure Time

“We judge ourselves by our intentions and others by their behavior.” - Stephen M.R. Covey

“We’re not half as bad as God is good.” - C Minor, mewwithoutYou

“It doesn’t get easier, you just go faster.” - Global Cycling Network

“In essentials, unity. In non-essentials, liberty. In all things, charity.” - Rupertus Meldenius

“To love at all is to be vulnerable.” – C.S. Lewis

So how did you do? How many points do you have? What are some of your favorite axioms?

Also, be thinking about what goodies you might like to make for the UMW bake sale booth. We appreciate all your help.
